In Memory Of

Catherine Autmon

On November 28, 1928, the Deed Angel visited us. She was one of the greatest servants the extension service has rendered farmers of the state is the assistance it has given to farmers in their organization and in their co-operative and farmers-controlled organization.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, also attended and explained that the feature alone will justify farmers of the state in becoming members of their farm organization.

A psychologist declares that we men are happier than men. There is no doubt that they are more enjoyment out of their misery.

There is consolation in the thought that if Congress spends all its time in investigations there will be no chance to pass any more laws.

entomism—on the part of the boss.

Strong Muscle Shools' Enemies

By HUGH G. GRANT
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.

Senator Hugo L. Black of Alabama, as usual, at a two-hour speech in the Senate, has brought to the forefront again the Muscle Shools extension question which has been blocked in the Senate.

Three state-wide meetings of county agents, farm leaders and business men have been held at Selma, Dothan and Decatur. These and were addressed by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, At-tawom, who urged all present to spend every effort in getting Alabama to vote for the new extension service.

Dr. Knapp declared that inventions and new things are trying to do business on an ex-cult basis in this day when the rest of the world has learned to travel 300 miles per hour by airplane. He said that the real friends of Muscle Shools are those who have been honest, the honest to go with the changing times.

Senator Black served notice on the Muscle Shools bill that he will receive maximum aid from the newly created Federal Farm Board, which offers aid to organized farmers only.

Edlow Jones Writes
From U. S. Ship Wyoming

September 26, 1929.

To the people who read this I would like to take the opportunity to say hello, as I have not had the pleasure of writing to The Clipper since the flood. I deeply regret that so much damage was done to such a beautiful little City as Elba.

I hardly realized that Elba was such a pretty place until I saw the pictures of the flood damage. I would like to see what the men in the Navy are doing for you, and if you want to see what it is, go to the Navy. I hope the men in the Navy are getting paid for, you should give your Navy a look over, and the material we have for defense. Your first line of defense is the Navy, so look it over for yourself.

But, tomorrow is the big day for the "I" Blend, and if I live through it, which I sure will, perhaps I can write something more interesting next time. I forgot to tell you where we are at the worst place—Norfolk, the port like to tell everybody—I have lost more sleep at night since I have been in the Navy than all the rest up all night plenty. Anyone who thinks a sailor's life is pleasure is mistaken, but we wear a smile just the same for we are taught that work is duty, and doing duty with Uncle Sam is a pleasure.

If any one from old Alabama ever gets the opportunity to visit the U. S. S. Wyoming, I will be very glad to show you all you can see. I would like to see what the men in the Navy are doing for you, and if you want to see what it is, go to the Navy.
